Summary

Product designer with four years at Spectrum across internal tools and the public corporate website. I lead design from discovery through developer handoff, build and govern component systems, and work directly with executive stakeholders to turn a room of opinions into a shipped direction. Background in psychology and sociology; growing practice in AI-assisted design operations.

Experience

Aug 2022 – present

Product Designer

Charter Communications (Spectrum) · Denver, CO

Corporate website, 2024 to present

- Co-lead the redesign of Spectrum's corporate website, partnering directly with executive stakeholders on direction and priorities.
- Set the foundation for the component system the site is being rebuilt on; 16 pages migrated and counting.
- Co-lead design for the discovery into unifying Spectrum's external-facing websites into one experience.

Design operations and AI

- Build AI agents and workflows that automate large-scale design audits and research synthesis for the studio.
- Translate those findings into team-wide standards for structuring and handing off design work.

Internal tools (AgentOS), 2022 to 2025

- Competitive Edge: redesigned the offer comparison tool sales and retention agents use on live calls. In usability testing, agents found competitor offers in 43 seconds instead of over 2 minutes, and satisfaction rose from 3.6 to 6.7 out of 7.
- Industry Offer Tool: redesigned the admin side of Competitive Edge, reworking the data structure with developers and adding validation and clearer feedback to cut manual entry errors.
- Multi-Tenant Sales: led the redesign of a referral platform for leasing agents as it moved in-house, bringing gift card rewards into the tool and adding duplicate detection to prevent reward fraud.
